102 Lost at Sea in Crash of Airliner

SANTO DOMINGO, Domini-can Republic (AP) — No sur-vivors had been found early today from a Dominican airliner which crashed in the Caribbean with 102 persons aboard, rescue officials reported.

The passengers included sev-eral U.S. citizens and 45 Puerto Ricans, officials of the airline said.

The Dominican Airlines twin-jet DC9 crashed into the Carib-bean about five miles off the south coast of the island of His-paniola a few minutes after tak-ing off for San Juan, Puerto Rico, Sunday afternoon.

The pilot had radioed that his engines were failing.

The airline said the U.S. citi-zens aboard, other than the Puerto Ricans, were John Payne, Chicago; Theodore Payne, Salt Lake City; Ruth Alonzo, New York City; Gilbert Hays, Florida; Francis Robert Downes of Massachusetts, who lived in the Dominican Republic at Las Matas de Farfan; and two Cubans who were natural-ized U.S. citizens, Emerito Per-ros Acevedo and Concepcion Nansou.

Also aboard were 45 Domini-cans, one Spaniard, two Peru-vians, an Argentinean and a Belgian priest who lived in the Dominican Republic.

Wreckage was spotted about five miles offshore, and Domini-can air and naval units searched for survivors through the night. An American search plane from Puerto Rico dropped flares over the area.

If no survivors are found, it will be Latin America's second worst air crash.

Among those reported aboard was a former world lightweight boxing champion, Carlos "Teo" Cruz, his wife and two children.

Also aboard were the wife, daughter and sister of Gen. An-tonio Imbert Barbera, who as-sassinated Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo in 1961 and head-ed a ruling junta after the over-throw of President Juan Bosch. His daughter, Leslie, was going to San Juan to buy her wedding dress. She was engaged to the son of the Italian consul.

Cruz, 32, has been training for a fight next month with Roger Zami in Paris and was to have left for France Wednesday.

Cruz lost the lightweight title to Mando Ramos of Los Angeles last year.

President Joaquin Balaguer proclaimed two days of national mourning and expressed his personal sorrow at the tragedy.

Airline officials said the $5 million jetliner had been in service less than two months.

STATE 5TH (from page one)

bought the denuded property in 1949, has harvested $19,755 worth of products in the last 13 years by heeding professional advice and still has more than $15,000 worth of timber standing.

Boyd highlighted his report for 1969 by announcing that Arkan-sas had climbed over Minneso-ta into fifth place in the nation-wide program, Arkansas now has 1,778 certified properties, eight more than the northern state, he said. The retiring chair-man challenged the inspectors to overtake the next state ahead, neighboring Louisiana, which has 1,914.

Arkansas has 4,166,000 acres of privately owned timberland enrolled in the program, about 800,000 fewer than Louisiana.

Boyd, International Paper Co., Unit Supervisor, pointed out that only 55 new Tree Farms were certified in 1969 compared to 106 in 1968 and bluntly told the au-dience of professional foresters, "If the small private landowner is going to make a significant contribution to the doubling of timber production by the year 2000, you are going to have to get up off your chairs and sell the program."

It was Boyd's third time to win an outstanding Tree Farm Inspector award. He earned it here last year, also, and had been honored similarly in Texas in 1963.

Principal speaker was Royce O. Cornelius, Timberlands Man-ager for Weyerhaeuser Co.—Dierks Div., Hot Springs, who ex-plaind the intricacies of the company's intensive forest man-agement program.

Donald W. Smit, Chief For-ester of Southern Forest In-stitute, Atlanta, Georgia, re-minded the inspectors of their professional commitment to bet-ter management of all forest lands. He praised those who are working effectively with private landowners.

Hershey Out, Draft Has No Director

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON, (AP) — For the first time in over 28 years the Selective Service System op-erated today without a director — in other words, without Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

Wrestling with an untamable new lottery method and facing Senate review of the whole draft system, the administration has fallen back on the caretaking skills of the system's headquar-ters staff.

Hershey, draft director since 1941, was reassigned effective today as the President's Advisor on Manpower Mobilization.

And the White House has found it impossible, in the four months since his reassignment was announced, to replace the 76-year-old general.

Back on Oct. 10 when he dis-closed the decision, White House press secretary Ronald L. Zie-gler added, "We will announce in coming days a deputy direc-tor of the Selective Service Sys-tem that will become director when Gen. Hershey assumes his new job."

By December, Ziegler was saying the appointment would come "as soon as possible."

There were reports that Paul Dietzel, football coach at the University of South Carolina, and Woodie Hayes, Ohio State University football coach, had been offered the job.

Dietzel said he wasn't inter-ested; Hayes denied receiving any offer.

The White House made seri-ous approaches to three others: John Pont, football coach at In-diana University; David O. Maxwell, Pennsylvania's budget director; and Charles J. Di-bona, director of the Center for Naval Analysis, in Rosslyn, Va. Pont reportedly decided he'd rather stay in football; Maxwell and the Selective Service staff apparently didn't feel comforta-ble together.

DiBona got as far as a Capitol Hill interview but aroused the animosity of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, its ranking Republican member.

sociate Justice Frank Holt wrote for the high court. "This rule of public policy, based upon centuries of usage, wisely re-quires this to be the law."

In a 1966 proceeding, J. L. Wright, then of Tulsa, Okla., testified he was in Germany on military duty when his parents were slain.

He said he visited his brother in the state Hospital and was told that the killings followed an argument over "quitting school, a car and getting married."

Leslie got the rifle, shot his mother when she moved in front of his father and then shot the father five times in the back. Mrs. Wright was shot three more times.

The Supreme Court upheld the conviction of Mrs. Blanche Wood of Polk County on a charge of cruelty to a child.

A Circuit Court jury had set a penalty of a $100 fine and a suspended jail sentence. The al-leged abuse involved Mrs. Wood's adopted daughter, Mary, 14, on March 14, 1969.

The trial records said that medical evidence, photographs, and testimony of witnesses showed that the girl's back was beaten with a strap so that she was bruised and swollen with bleeding underneath the skin.

The Supreme Court affirmed a jury award of $19,000 for 16.56 acres of land taken by the Ar-kansas Highway Commission for the U.S. 63 Bypass at Jones-boro.

The property is part of a 99 acre tract owned by Maybrine G. Spurlock, who testified that his property was diminished in value by $33,000 by the action.

The commission had appealed the $19,000 judgment on grounds that there was no substantial evi-dence to support the jury's ver-dict.

Be Thankful for Heritage, Club Reminded

"Our American Heritage... Stop and Think, Then, Stop and Thank God for It" was the theme of the message which Rotarian Cecil Bittle brought to a Rotary Ladies Night gathering of 61 at the Town and Country last Fri-day night. "We are a blessed nation," he said.

The speaker, who is manager of the U of A Southwest Branch Experiment Station, was intro-duced by Judge John A. Wilson, a member of the U of A Board of Trustees. Since Mr. Bittle came to his present position 25 years ago, numerous incidents have occurred with a humorous touch. He told of these in a cle-ver manner before reviewing the many changes that have been made in crop production during that time.

He made some predictions of future changes, and it will be in-teresting to see how many of these take place in the next few years. In her first pro-fessional appearance, Miss Cyn-thia Okano provided dinner music as she played familiar melodies on the piano. The Rotary colors, blue and gold, were seen in table arrangements of yellow mums, blue Dutch irises, and yellow candles. A box of candy was presented to each lady present as a gift.

Besides the Rotarians and their Rotary Anns, other guests were: Mrs. C.W. Bridgers, the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole, Mrs. G.A. Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Hinton Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fielding, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson. Arrangements for the en-tertainment were made by Cecil Bittle, Syd McMeth, and C.R. "Dick" Moore.

POOR DINNER MUSIC

Dear Helen: Why, oh why do they use TV commercials about dental cleansers, cigarette cough, itching skin, and upset stomachs—right at dinner time? Some are enough to make you lose your appetite. We feel we need the set on because we get the news programs. Then come those revolting commercials.—YUK

Dear Yuk: If you can stomach the news these days, I should think dinner-time TV commercials would be duck soup (excuse the expression). Which is worse: A pitch for an itch cure, or pictures of war, crime, poverty and politicians, to make the evening meal enchanting?—H.

Dear Helen: I grew up in a family that showed no affection because none was there. I can't remember my parents ever kissing us two children or sympathizing, praising, listening. We were their "duty," and it was OUR duty to relieve them of it as soon as possible. I worked before I was 13, earning most of my keep. Yet I've never blamed my parents for the love they couldn't show. Even when I was very young, I felt sorry for them. My husband's childhood was somewhat of a nightmare. His mother worshipped him and his father threatened to kill him, even chasing him with a knife several times. He was loved and loathed simultaneously—and battled over!

What I'm getting at is, that if you listen to popular psychiatric theory, you'd assume we two would be such damaged merchandise that we'd choke on our hang-ups, and probably throttle each other in the process. Moreover, children produced from this miserable union would be foredoomed.

Nothing could be farther from the truth! We've been married 20 happy, giving years and our children are remarkably free of "problems."

In our house there is communication, affection, understanding, humor, and much love! At the same time, two former schoolmates, who had perfect home lives, need psychiatry, and others we sort of envied have marriage and child-raising troubles.

Our cases aren't unusual. So why are parents so constantly blamed for the wrongs or miseries of their children? Our parents did almost nothing right, yet produced very well-adjusted offspring.—JUST WONDER-ING

Dear Just: By the time a psychiatric theory becomes "popular" with amateurs, the professionals are beginning to discard it. These days therapists aren't as interested in where you've been as where you're going—and I think this is a healthy trend.

Of course, parents should try to create the best possible home life, but I agree with you, J.W., the worst childhood sometimes produces the best adult—though only if that person doesn't use his "rejection" as a crutch.—H.

Dear Helen: Quite a while ago you told about a little monthly magazine that lists cash offers and other give-aways from food companies—those offers we sometimes don't see at stores. I need to save all I can, and so take advantage of all coupons, refunds, etc., and would like to get the list each month. Could you give us again the name of the magazine?—HOUSEWIFE

Dear Housewife: The magazine's name is QUICK SILVER, and it is published by Eggleston Enterprises, Milford, New York. Write there for further details.—H.

Serve Ham a la King In Pastry Shells

Leftover baked ham becomes an extra special dish when made into Ham a la King and served in celery seed pastry shells. The shells are formed over the backs of custard cups or muffin pans.

Ham a la King in Pastry Shells

6 tablespoons Mazola margarine
1/2 cup light cream
1/2 cup chopped cooked ham
1/2 cup chopped pimiento
8 baked Celery Seed Shells (recipe below)
Melt margarine over low heat. Stir in cream and ham until smooth. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in broth and cream. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Add ham and pimiento. Continue cooking, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Spoon about 1/2 cup Ham a la King into each pastry shell. Makes 8 servings.

Celery Seed Pastry Shells

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 cup margarine
2 tablespoons cold water
Mix flour and celery seed in bowl. Cut in margarine with pastry blender or 2 knives until fine crumbs form. Sprinkle water over mixture while tossing to blend well. Press dough into ball. Roll out to 1/8-inch thickness on lightly floured surface. Cut into eight 4-inch circles. Fit circles over backs of custard cups or cup-cake pans; make 4 pleats on pastry to fit loosely. Prick pastry. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 450° F. (very hot) oven about 8 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove shells immediately from cups and cool. Makes 8 celery seed shells.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — It is a rare television program today that is not made in color.

Producers of programs think in terms of color, rely on it, build effects on it. Yet 60 per cent of the nation's television homes still can see only black and white pictures.

This viewer, with a color set hospitalized for emergency treatment, found many black and white programs, particularly weekend sports shows, lacking a vital, enlivening ingredient, like salt in soup.

The initial program of this season's "Experiment in Television" on NBC Sunday afternoon was not an hour that, in any event, would be every viewer's choice. It was a fantasy, "Dream on Monkey Mountain," full of the dreams and hopes of a West Indian black man. It was filmed in Trinidad and portrayed by a talented native cast. The story was built on the framework of the last days of an old mountain man who has recurrent visions that he is an African king, freeing his people from oppression. What really happens is that he smashes a village bar and is thrown in an island jail. The drama moves from grim reality to his grandiose visions and nightmares, with village people assuming other roles. However, the native color and scenery would have provided an extra dimension that might have helped fix the viewer's mood and, perhaps, helped his comprehension.

"Uncle Sam Magoo," an NBC special, was a cartoon show that actually was more experimental, in TV terms, than the earlier program. The familiar little near-sighted character, dressed in an Uncle Sam suit, was the viewer's guide on a roller-coaster ride of American history. It started with Lefty Ericson and Christopher Columbuss and wound up with our own presidents leading to the present. In between, the cartoonist's mixup of American history was wildly and wisely from the rival of the Pilgrims to Thomas Jefferson's "I have a dream" charge and all wars.

Mostly the program was done in cartoon style with near-sighted jokes, but the Civil War period was covered with old illustrations and drawings—animated to show the cannons belching flame, and attempts at humor were, happily, temporarily abandoned.

Again, color would have added some 50 per cent to the viewing pleasure. But humor, history, patriotism and cartoons did not seem to mix comfortably.

"Survival on the Prairie," an NBC nature special, was, without the addition of color, just another travelogue-type hour with a self-consciously poetic script. It specialized in dramatic shots of great expanses of prairie grasses bending to the wind, of snow and of rocky, barren hillsides. The program was a visual feast, but the lack of color was a disappointment. It was a good idea if the producers took a look at the present show in a white house and where

Malvern Swamps Hope by 81-58

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

For a while a blood like Malvern, but the Malvern Leopards poured on the boys to overcome the Hope Bobcats 81-58 in a 4-A West, contest last Saturday night at Malvern's homecoming.

Hope led 16-7 in the early going and 16-12 at the half, apparently setting the stage for a real battle with the Leopards. But Malvern gained a 13-22 advantage by halftime that grew to 12 points after three periods and eventually the closing 25-point margin.

So ended a disappointing week-end for the Bobcats, now in the cellar of 4-A West at 1-6 and 942 overall. Malvern went to 5-5 and 20-3.

That short bit is enough about last weekend, because the memories are not sweet for the Hope Bobcats. And the correcting can start tomorrow night.

Six straight losses have come to powers Camden Lincoln, Malvern, Fairview, Magnolia, Arkadelphia, and Malvern again. That list is impressive, but the games left, and all four are less challenging.

Tomorrow night (Tuesday) Malvern's Bears, just up into 4-A after dominating 7-A for so many years, will come to Jones Field House. Malvern is always tough from February on, but that is not quite so true this time around.

On Saturday evening the Ouachita High Warriors, who have twice conquered Hope by decent margins, come to town for a third shot, and this time the Cats are ready for them.

With district tournament just two weeks away, Hope needs to get that winning feeling now, and get it strong. It ought to start tomorrow night.

Yerger Jr. Girls in Dist. Play

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Finally always puts that extra "something" into district tournaments, as the Hope Lady Cats and Bobkittens go their respective ways tonight with no tomorrow for the losers.

At 5:00 p.m. this afternoon in Camden the Yerger Bobkittens will take on the Crossett Eaglets in the first round of the 4-A Junior Boys Championship.

In December the teams met in the Smackover Tournament, and Crossett got a six-point victory in the quarterfinals. Yerger edged Malvern 18-16 for an important road victory Saturday night, and the Kittens will likely try pressing defensive tactics to keep control of the basketball.

Also tonight the Hope Lady Cats meet the Foreman Alligators at Nashville in the 7-A Tournament's first round at 6:45 p.m., with the winner to face Ashdown on Thursday.

Early in January the Ladies routed Foreman here easily, so Hope would be a favorite tonight. Forwards Dee Singleton, Mary Beth Millican, Betty Roden, and for the sophomore-jaden team, as have defenders like Sharon East, Janice Hobson, Cindy Hollis, Renee Quillin, and Sharon Brown.

For the Yerger Junior Girls, who were knocked out of the 7-A Championships at Nashville last week, forward Janet McCain was named to the All-District team for her play in the opening-round 43-35 loss to DeQueen.

Georgia Tech Cagers Keep Rambling

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Oh, they're the Rambling Wreck from Georgia Tech, da dum..."

Yes, and while Georgia Tech was making a wreck of North Carolina, unflappable UCLA continued to wait away with another college basketball game.

Georgia Tech engineered two major upsets over the weekend, taming fifth-ranked North Carolina 89-77 and 10th-ranked North Carolina 104-95 on successive nights Friday and Saturday.

The top-ranked Bruins, meanwhile, slammed Washington 101-85 Saturday night for their 20th victory this season and 24th straight dating back to last year.

"This is a better UCLA club than the one in 1964," said Coach Tex Winter of Washington.

Winter referred to the year the Bruins beat Winter's Kansas State team enroute to the NCAA championship.

"This team is better on the offensive boards than the one in 1965," Winter added. "It doesn't penetrate quite as well at the guards, and it's not as good on the press...but the shooting is outstanding."

Second-ranked South Carolina bounced back from last week's defeat by Davidson to stop Duke 82-65; No. 3 Kentucky spiked Florida 110-66; fourth-rated St. Bonaventure repulsed Providence 68-52; North Carolina State beat Clemson 102-84; No. 7 Jacksonville closed New Orleans Loyola 96-75; No. 8 Penn topped Brown 90-75 and No. 9 Florida State squashed Tulane 112-77 in other Top Ten contests Saturday.

UCLA led by only 42-36 at halftime before Henry Bibby, who scored 21 points, and Steve Patterson, 18, started sniping from long range.

The Bruins ran off a 9-2 spurt against the Huskies at the outset of the second half to lock up the Pacific-8 contest.

Rich Yunkus of Georgia Tech, who scored 27 Friday night, came back with 47 points Saturday to tie a Charlotte, N.C., Coliseum record set earlier this year by Louisiana State's Pete Maravich.

North Carolina's comeback try turned into a nightmare in to winding up the 1970 football season with Texas, but that doesn't mean the two Southwest Conference powers won't be meeting Dec. 5 at Austin.

The tentative schedule calls for Arkansas to meet Texas Oct. 17 at Austin.

Last year, ABC-TV persuaded the two schools to reschedule their mid-October game for Dec. 6. The gamble paid off handsomely. Both teams were sporting 9-0 records and ranked 1-2 in the nation when Texas rallied in the fourth quarter for a 15-14 victory.

Broyles said at that time that he would oppose a similar juggling of the schedule in 1970. He said, however, last week that ABC has sent out some "feelers" and "chances are that if they want it they'll get it."

Texas Coach Darrell Royal has been quoted as saying he would favor such a change.

Broyles is opposed to the change because it is difficult to concentrate on the opponent at hand with Texas looming at the end of the season.

Because of the altered schedule in 1969, Arkansas had a week off between Baylor and Wichita State, 12 days off between SMU and Texas Tech and 9 days off between Tech and Texas.

Currently, the schedule shows Arkansas playing 10 straight Saturdays beginning on Sept. 19 against Oklahoma State at Little Rock.

Broyles says it is still possible the Razorbacks will schedule an 11th game for Sept. 12 at Little Rock. Colleges are permitted to play an 11th regular season game under a recent decision by the NCAA.

Arkansas has lined up Southern California for a two-year home-and-home series beginning in 1972.

Lamar Tech Pulling Away From Foes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas Tech's Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference record is second only to Ouachita's, but the Wonder Boys are still struggling to make the conference playoff.

The AIC went to division play this year with the winner and runner-up in both divisions awarded a spot in the playoff.

As a result, Henderson (13-3) and Arkansas College (8-8), have already wrapped up the two spots in Division B. They will be joined in the playoff by Ouachita and either Tech or Southern State.

Tech is 13-3, Southern State 12-4 and the two teams meet tonight at Magnolia. A Tech victory would eliminate Southern State from playoff consideration. If the Mulderiders win, they would be tied with Tech.

Frazier and Ellis Fight for Title

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cospel singing Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier, whose style is hard rock, are set to do their real thing tonight—fight for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Frazier, champion of six states including New York, rules as heavy favorite over Ellis, the World Boxing Association king, for the scheduled 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The Las Vegas price on Frazier is 6-1, while New York boxing circles said it's Frazier 5-1 in man-to-man betting. Little or no wagering has been reported.

"I think he's the champion, so he should be the favorite," says Yank Durham, Frazier's manager.

"I'm not betting money so it makes no difference," says Ellis.

Durham predicts Frazier will win by a knockout but has not named a particular round.

"I don't predict," says Ellis' manager, Angelo Dundee, "but I won't be amazed if Jimmy knocks him out."

The fight is set for 10:30 p.m., EST, following a scheduled 10-round heavyweight bout between Gregorio Peralta of Argentina and unbeaten George Foreman, like Frazier an Olympic champion.

The fight will be seen in this country only on closed circuit television at 120 locations with more than 500,000 seats. New York and a 90-mile surrounding area will be blacked out, but New York will be included in the radio broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting System.

It also will be seen via satellite in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Mexico, South America, parts of Europe and parts of Asia.

Frazier, who won his piece of the title by stopping Buster Mathis in 11 rounds March 4, 1968 has won all 24 of his pro fights, 21 by knockout.

Ellis, a former sparring partner of the deposed Cassius Clay, has won 27, 12 by knockout, and lost five. All of his losses came when he was a middleweight.

He won the WBA crown by outpointing Quarry April 27, 1968, and his last fight was a successful 15-round defense against Floyd Patterson Sept. 14, 1968.

Frazier's fighting style resembles his singing style—he has cut a few records. He is a swarming two-fisted puncher who swarms over his opponent, constantly applying pressure.

He's fond of saying, "I'll come out smokin'."

But he can be hit, being decked by Mike Bruce in his second pro fight and twice by Oscar Bonavena. And although Ellis, who sings with his wife in churches, is primarily a boxer, he can hit and hurt. His best punch is a sneak right hand.

Ellis has only been knocked down once, by Rubin "Hurricane" Carter in 1964, and he contends that was a slip.

A referee and two judges, to be named at ringside, will score the fight under the round system. If the rounds are even, they will use a supplementary point system.

The regular rules of the New York State Athletic Commission will be in effect. They will use

Spa Jockey Dispute Is Settled

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The state Racing Commission has settled a dispute between Oaklawn Park jockeys and horse owners by meeting the jockey's demands.

The Midwest Jockey Guild, representing riders at Oaklawn, had asked for increases in the riding fees and that winning riders be guaranteed at least 10 per cent of the winner's purse.

The jockeys also asked for an increase of $5 in the mount fee for finishing first, second, third or fourth in races up to $3,400.

An increase of $10 for finishing second or third also was requested in races for purses of $3,500 to $4,900, with an increase of $15 in the mount fee for riders finishing second or third in races for purses of $5,000 or more.

The state Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association had agreed to accept the verdict of the commission before Saturday's meeting.

Rice Takes Over Lead in the SWC

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"It's just crazy..." And those three little words by Rice coach Don Knodel pretty well sum up the Southwest Conference basketball chase.

The amazing, scrappy Owls are leading the pack with a 7-2 record after Saturday night's 61-60 upset of Baylor in Waco.

Rice has won five games by the "grand" total of eight points. "Don't ask me how we do it," Knodel grinned. "We lost so many close ones last year, maybe it just evens out."

If Knodel is in basketball heaven, you can imagine how Baylor coach Bill Menefee feels. His Bears have lost their last three games by one point in each instance.

Texas Tech's fast-jelling Red Raiders and Texas Christian are just a step behind Rice with 6-3 records. Baylor and Texas A&M are next with 5-4 marks.

And what happened to pre-season favorite Texas? Well, the Longhorns were knocked off Saturday night 90-71 by Tech and sank to a low 3-6 slate — just ahead of Southern Methodist and Arkansas each with 2-7 records.

Knodel threw a few wrinkles at the Bears, who dropped their first game at home this season. "We went to the zone in the second half...and Baylor just couldn't buy a shot," Knodel said.

Rice tries to protect its lead Tuesday night when it hosts Arkansas. On Saturday night, the Owls entertain Texas.

Texas Tech is at Texas A&M Tuesday night while TCU is at Texas and Baylor is at SMU.

The Red Raiders are sizzling. They came off their best defensive game of the season against the Longhorns. Texas scored only seven points in the first seven minutes of the second half as the Tech fast-break burned the Orange.

The Texas Aggies rode Mike Heltmann's 25-point production to a 77-73 victory over TCU in which the fans at Fort Worth chucked paper cups and hot dogs on the floor. The Horned Frogs almost caught the Aggies in the second half with a full court press but couldn't quite close the gap.

Arkansas put the camps on the SWC's most prolific scorer, Gene Phillips of SMU, in an 88-72 victory. Phillips hit only 4 of 19 from the field and finished the night with 17 points.

Arkansans in Money in Tucson Play

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Two professional golfers from Arkansas won a total of more than $2,500 Sunday in the $100,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament.

Miller Barber of Texarkana earned $2,100 for his six-under-par total of 282. Barber shot a final round 69 Sunday. Richard Crawford of Bella Vista, who shot a final round 73, had a 288 total and won $463.

Lee Trevino captured the $20,000 top prize in a playoff with Bob Murphy. Both finished 72 holes with 275 totals.

Trevino Is Winner of Tucson Meet

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Lee Trevino, brass and cocky as ever, had just pulled one out of the fire, and was talking about his golfing philosophy.

"You gamble when you have to," said the happy-go-lucky guy with the infectious grin following his playoff victory with Bob Murphy in the $100,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

"I was two down at the turn and I started gambling. I drove over the water on 10 and went for the pin on 13 and 14 and 16. You do what you have to do."

That's what it's all about out there—winning golf tournaments.

He made up two strokes on Murphy on the 72nd hole Sunday, tied the cigar-chomping red-head at the end of regulation play, then beat him on the first hole of a sudden death playoff with a five-foot birdie putt.

It was Trevino's first victory in a year and made him the first champion to successfully defend his title since Jack Nicklaus scored consecutive triumphs in 1967-68 Western Opens.

"It always feels good to win," he said.

"But I've been too close not to win. The only way I can keep from winning golf tournaments is to quit playing golf. I may never win another major title, but I'll win tournaments here and there. I'm too devoted to the game, love it too much, not to win."

He and Murphy, who had matched 18-hole scores throughout the course of the tournament, 66 on the first day, followed by 68 and 72, each had a final 69 on the sunny, 7,200-yard, par-72 Tucson National Golf Club course for 275.

Charles Coody came in with a 68 for 277 and Bob Lunn took fourth with a 70 for 278. John Lotz, the second round leader, followed with a 72 for a 279, with Fred Marti and Frank Beard following at 280.

Coody, Lotz and Lunn all made runs at the leaders on the final day. But it was, essentially, a battle between the chubby Murphy and swarthy Trevino, who was cheered on by thousands of fans who came in by chartered bus from Mexico.

Both reached the green in two on the first extra hole. Murphy missed a seven-foot putt and Trevino canned one from five-feet for the title.

Older Mares, Fillies in Spa Feature

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Seven older fillies and mares, headed by Roy Sturgis' Prefer, are scheduled to go to the post in this afternoon's $6,500 feature race at Oaklawn Park.

Prefer, a 4-year-old filly trained by Bob Holthus, has been assigned 118 pounds. She was beaten a neck by Jon's Music in her first outing of the year Feb. 10.

Five of the other six horses in the field finished behind Prefer in that race. The lone exception is Hidden Valley Girl, who finished second in her only outing of the year Feb. 6.

Hidden Valley Girl gets in today's race with 109 pounds, five less than she was asked to carry in her other outing. The 4-year-old filly is owned by Mrs. H. J. Udouj and Mrs. H. L. Hembree.

Rounding out the field for the 6-furlong event are Miss Suzuki (111), Black Apache (118), Cash Ticket (115), Carshido (118) and Diamond Jean (113). Carshido was third to Prefer on Feb. 10.

Today also marks the first race of the meeting for 2-year-olds and is scheduled as the first half of the daily double. William Fleming, who chalked up his eighth and nine victories of the season Saturday, continues to lead the jockey standings.

Fleming scored on Mr. Bird Dog in the $7,500 secondary feature and then won aboard Sado in the $15,000 Hot Springs Handicap. Both horses are owned by W. C. Parlee of Magnolia and trained by Harold Tinker.

James McKnight and Danny Whitely are tied for second with six victories each. Larry Snyder, the leading rider in the country last year, is in fourth place with five winners. He also has 10 seconds.

Tinker vaulted into first place among trainers with seven winners. Doug Davis Jr., the leading trainer at Oaklawn in 1969, is second with six victories. Holthus, Jean Brennan and E. A. Cole are tied for third with four victories each.

Stars Rip the Colonels in ABA Cage Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Los Angeles Stars Coach Bill Sharman was losing sleep over his slumping American Basketball Association team. Then the players promptly woke up on the court.

The team had dropped its fourth straight game Saturday night, losing 109-103 in Indiana, and, after a long night, returned home only a few hours before Sunday's game against Kentucky.

The Stars ran away from the Colonels for three periods, took a quick nap at the start of the fourth, then rallied from behind to upset Kentucky 121-113.

In Sunday's other ABA games, Washington stunned Indiana 120-111, Pittsburgh routed Carolina 120-103 and New York downed Miami 108-100. In Saturday night's only other contest, Dallas topped New York 112-106.

In Sunday's National Basketball Association action, Los Angeles edged Milwaukee 98-96.

San Diego bombed Cincinnati 150-123, Philadelphia blitzed Phoenix 150-125, Atlanta smashed Boston 146-125 and Detroit beat Chicago 126-119.

The Stars won with a balanced attack, getting 31 points from Willie Wise, 28 from George Stone and 24 from Craig Raymond, more than enough to counteract the career-high 49 points poured in by Kentucky guard Louie Dampier.

Rick Barry's 39-point performance boosted the Caps within one-half game of third-place Dallas and within two of front-running New Orleans. The win was Washington's third straight, its sixth in seven games and first in four meetings with Indiana.

Napoles Keeps World Title by Knockout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There were cheers today for a game fighter named Lino "Indian Red" Lopez. And there were tears as some left ringside in his lead.

But the victory went to Jose "Montezuma" Napoles of Mexico. City as he retained his world welterweight championship. It took 14 rounds and 2 minutes 10 seconds of the 15th to subdue Indian Red.

The main event at the Forum attracted 17,511 fans who paid $22,417 for the show. No one left disappointed.

Lopez, 24, the No. 1 contender in the 147-pound division, was floored in the first, ninth and 13th rounds. And he was knocked out for the first time in his career.

But, like many the ring and especially Lopez, he was still on his feet when referee Larry Rosenthal stopped the fight.

Cities Depending on Deep Wells for Water, in Trouble

This should be considered as an extension of our remarks about the water troubles of Hope and Magnolia in our edition of Friday, Feb. 13—

The Nevada County News of Thursday, Feb. 12, reports the situation is critical at Prescott, which, like Hope and Magnolia, normally depends upon deep wells for municipal water.

The supply failed completely Jan. 7, and only after several days was service restored in a restricted form. Prescott does have a pipe line to the Little Missouri River, under lease to an industry—but there is no filtration plant to make river water safe for human consumption.

The Nevada County News reported that engineers told the Prescott city government it would cost $300,000 to install a filtration plant to make river water safe for humans.

That may appear to be a lot of money, but it's just a fraction of what The Star is suggesting for the City of Hope—to build a pipe line to Millwood Reservoir and install the filtration plant that would be required.

Water rates, we understand, are higher in Camden than Hope—or probably any other well-supplied town—but Camden has the unmistakable advantage of an inexhaustible supply of water. It pumps water out of the Ouachita River and filters it before delivering it to the homes of Camden. The price may be higher—but then Camden householders are never short of water.

Municipal water problems are universal. Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where I grew up, had the same problem. Prescott has — and Wilkes-Barre had it every Summer. The city was supplied by Springbrook Water Co., a privately-owned utility. But every Summer the utility's mountain reservoirs ran low and had to be supplemented with raw water from the polluted Susquehanna River—causing householders to have to boil their drinking water.

The time is approaching when state and federal law should compel all cities to develop surface water resources and filtration plants, just as laws are going to compel our rivers to be cleared of pollution.

If we are having trouble with deep wells in the current wet cycle you can imagine the grief that awaits us when the cycle returns to a dry era within 10 years from now.

Laws might help when individual cities fail to get together on a surface-water development such as a pipe line to Millwood. On the other hand, governmental coercion would in all probability be accompanied by federal financial aid—just as aid is being extended on the anti-pollution program.

Panel Okay for Carswell Is Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee approved by a vote of 12 to 4 today the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell of Tallahassee, Fla.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., told newsmen that the committee's majority report recommending Carswell's confirmation will be filed in the Senate later today.

The senators voting against approval of Carswell's nomination were all Democrats—Philip A. Hart of Michigan, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Birch Bayh of Indiana and Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland.

Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., passed without voting when the roll was called in the closed-door meeting.

Eastland also announced that the committee had agreed to vote by April 24 on a proposed constitutional amendment providing for the election of the president and vice president by direct popular vote.

Bayh, chief Senate sponsor of the direct election plan, had insisted at an earlier meeting of the committee that a time be fixed for voting on it before the committee voted on the nomination of Carswell.

Up to today, there had been no public, stated opposition from any committee members. However, six other senators have announced they will vote against the nomination when it reaches the floor.

The latest was Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., who said Sunday night he was "appalled by the mediocrity of Carswell's nomination."

Carswell, now a judge on the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals "was and is a white supremacist," Williams said.

President Nixon nominated Carswell Jan. 19 after his earlier selection of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of Greenville, S.C., was rejected by a 5-4 Senate vote.

The Judiciary Committee concluded its hearings on Carswell's nomination Feb. 3, but a closed-door meeting immediately afterward Bayh objected to voting unless an agreement was reached first on acting on the proposed electoral reform amendment.

The meeting broke up in a deadlock, but Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., indicated the way had been cleared for a vote April 24 on the Bayh amendment.

However, another element was entered in the racial controversy late last week when a Florida newspaper reported the deed to some property Carswell and his wife sold in 1966 contained a white-only clause.

Carswell has made no comment on the white-only clause.

Will Enforce Inspection Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The State Police say they will begin a campaign to enforce the state vehicle inspection law March 1.

Col. Ralph Scott, director of the State Police, said Saturday that the police will set up periodic roadblocks in all the counties to check for the inspection stickers.

In January, the number of inspections was 39,137, a decline of 63,616 from the number inspected in the same month last year.

One propeller-driven A1E Skyraider was shot down over the Plain of Jars and the American pilot was presumed killed, sources in Vietnam said.

Sources in Saigon said the raids were a two-pronged aerial offensive against North Vietnamese forces. Some were in support of Laotian government forces on the Plain of Jars, which is under North Vietnamese attack. Other raids were against the Ho Chi Minh trail farther east to slow the movement of North Vietnamese troops and supplies into South Vietnam.

The sources said the planes came from two 7th Fleet carriers in the Tonkin Gulf and half a dozen bases in Thailand and South Vietnam. Most were F4 Phantom and F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers, which carry 10,000 to 15,000 pounds of bombs.

The Strategic Air Command's B52 bombers, which carry four to six times that bomb load, also pounded North Vietnamese supply depots in eastern Laos. Several B52 missions were reported along the border.

Across the border in South Vietnam, allied forces battered a mixed North Vietnamese and Viet Cong battalion in sand dunes and rice paddies south of Da Nang, killing 182 of the enemy soldiers and capturing 16, military spokesmen claimed today. Field reports put government losses at 12 killed and 31 wounded.

Spokesmen said a total of 280 enemy soldiers had been killed and 40 captured during the five-day operation. Thirty-one South Vietnamese were reported killed and 82 wounded.

"It was really hairy for a few minutes," said Sgt. Harry B. Moats, 19, of Decatur, Ala., an adviser to the South Vietnamese 1st Armored Brigade. "We were about 20 feet apart and throwing hand grenades at each other."

The New Wave is also seeking to link the war with inflation and taxes in a call for massive demonstrations on the 15th.

Both groups had observers at the conference which adopted a proposal by SMC National Secretary Carol Lipman for "massive student actions and strikes in the colleges and high schools across the country" April 15.

Miss Lipman's proposal, which carried over the strenuous opposition from an independent radical group, remained focused on the slogan, "Bring All the GI's Home Now."

It stopped short of attacks on what the unaligned radicals call U.S. imperialism, and made no special appeals to either the working class or the black community—elements the radicals say must be included if any broad-based peace movement is to be created.

The proposal also avoided an appeal for nonviolent civil disobedience—a tactic the New Wave, itself a coalition of radicals, liberals and Communists, is considering for a March campaign against the draft.

Rockefeller has said he supports a resolution adopted by the Southern Governor's Conference, of which he is chairman. The resolution describes busing as a "useful tool" in integration cases.

Young said Saturday that the route of the march had not been decided.

Norman Warnock of Camden said Saturday night that the American Party in Arkansas would support the rally.

Jury Deliberates the Riot Case, Judge Makes Contempt Sentences

By F. RICHARD CECONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A federal jury goes into a third day of deliberations today on the fate of seven men charged with riot conspiracy but the defendants are already in jail and one of their lawyers has been sentenced to four years in prison for contempt.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman of U.S. District Court finished fixing sentences on the defendants for contempt Sunday, then turned to lawyers William M. Kunstler, and Leonard I. Weinglass.

Kunstler, 50, of New York City was sentenced to 48 months and 13 days on 24 counts of contempt. Weinglass, 36, of Newark, N.J., was sentenced to 20 months and 5 days in prison on 14 counts.

The judge characterized as "reprehensible conduct" the actions of the lawyers for the seven men charged with conspiracy to incite rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

He stayed execution of the lawyers' sentences to May 4 to allow them to perform legal duties for their clients, being held in the federal tier of Cook County Jail during the jury deliberations.

If convicted of conspiracy, each man faces a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $20,000 fine. The judge denied motions to free the seven on bond pending appeal of the contempt charges.

Weinglass told newsmen Sunday that he had before the court ruled in the case stemming from the rifle slayings in 1953 of Mr. and Mrs. Junious E. Wright of Sulphur Springs.

Leslie A. Wright, 17, was convicted and given a life sentence in 1954 on a first-degree murder charge in the killing of Mrs. Wright, his mother.

Wright was paroled in 1964, married and was killed later that year in an automobile accident in Union County. His widow, Lydia, and their son, Glenn, sued for a half interest in the property left after the death of Leslie's parents.

Chancellor Ernie E. Wright, no relation to the defendants or plaintiffs, had ruled they were entitled to half of the 173 acres in question.

Leslie's brother, J. L. Wright, the sole survivor of Junious Wright, appealed the chancellor's verdict to the high court, which overturned the judgment and said Leslie's widow and son were not entitled to any of the property.

4 January Fatalities in District

The monthly statistical review of traffic accidents for Southwest Arkansas were released today by Captain Milton Mosler, Commander of the Hope District of the Arkansas State Police. Mosler said the counties of Hempstead, Miller, Little River and Sevier recorded 1 fatality each.

Mosler said troopers in the Hope District investigated 99 accidents during January, cited too fast for conditions was speed as the leading contributing factor to the accidents. He said there were 19 alcohol related collisions during January.

Mosler said Clark County recorded the highest accident rate, reporting 20, followed by Hempstead County with 16, Miller and Pike 10 each, Columbia 9, Little River and Sevier 8 each, Nevada 5, Montgomery and Polk 4 each, Howard 3 and Lafayette 2 accidents.

Mosler said troopers statewide investigated 767 accidents in which 30 persons lost their lives. They cited speed too fast as the leading contributing factor.

Smaller HEW Measure Is Advanced

By EDMOND Le BRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise education and poverty appropriations bill—smaller than the one President Nixon vetoed but larger than he said he would accept—was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The money bill for the Departments of Health, Education and Welfare and Labor, the Office of Economic Opportunity and related agencies totals $20.3 billion—$893 million above Nixon's budget estimates. The bill he vetoed Jan. 28—a veto sustained two days later by the House—was more than $1 billion above the budget.

Nixon said in a communication to Congress after the veto that he would accept a total of $440 million increases over the budget in the HEW appropriation.

The committee's action, accordingly, left open the possibility of another veto.

The committee said in its report that, while the 226-191 House vote to override the veto fell short of the constitutionally required two-thirds, "The committee took into consideration the fact that 35 more votes were cast to override than were cast to sustain. Therefore, it appeared to the committee that a compromise between the position of the President and the position of the Congress would be logical and fair rather than the Congress deleting all of the increases that are still objectionable to the President."

Republicans were mapping a strategy for modifying the bill more in accord with Nixon's preferences when it reaches the House floor.

Balance of Payments Deficit Worst

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States reported today a deficit of $4.7 billion in the balance of payments for 1969, the worst year on record.

Department of Commerce figures showed, however, a surplus of $1.1 billion seasonally adjusted, for the fourth quarter of 1969.

The 1969 deficit, meaning that more money flowed out of the country than came in, represents a $7.2 billion deterioration from 1968, which showed a surplus of $100 million.

All figures are adjusted for predictable seasonal changes and are for the liquidity balance, which takes account of changes in all U.S. transactions overseas.

The official balance, which covers only transactions with other governments and central banks, showed a $1.3 billion surplus in the last quarter of 1969 and a surplus of $2.78 billion for the year, a $1.1 billion improvement over 1968.

Activities for the past week of the Office Practice Class at Red River Vocational Technical School, included a visit by Mrs. Mary Arnold from Merle Norma Cosmetic Studio. She gave a demonstration of the Three Steps to Beauty. Mrs. Arnold used as her model, Mrs. Betty Hox, a student from Texarkana.

On Tuesday, the class made two field trips in Hope. At the Ladies Specialty Shop, Mrs. Virginia Hoxner showed them the appropriate styles of school-dated office wardrobe. After colorfully illustrating some of the "do's" and "don'ts" of office clothes, a door prize was won by Brenda Grimes.

Next they visited the Fabric Center. Mrs. B.B. Verser and Mrs. Frances Gilley showed them the important things to look for in the selection of fabric and patterns. She displayed a large supply of trimmings and sewing accessories. Mrs. Verser gave the class a pattern catalog to be kept at the school.

Mediator Is Accepted by Air Controllers

By JAMES M. PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal mediator was called in today to help resolve a dispute over the transfer of three air traffic controllers that threatened to disrupt the nation's air traffic.

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe said a representative of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service would serve as a mediator at the talks starting today with the Professional Air Traffic Controller Organization — PATCO — in Washington.

A "giant disruption" of air traffic had been threatened by PATCO's executive director, lawyer F. Lee Bailey. This would be brought about, he said, by PATCO controllers going by the book, no longer doing work above and beyond what is called for by their contract and government regulations. Controllers regularly do much more than is required of them, PATCO says.

An emergency meeting Sunday of PATCO leaders, Volpe, and John Shaffer, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, led to the talks. The decision, sources said, diminishes for the moment the prospect for disruption of air travel.

The talks are designed to gather more facts concerning the transfer of two air traffic controllers and one technician from Baton Rouge, La.

However, one source close to both PATCO and the FAA said today's meeting was designed more as a "palliative" than substantive negotiations.

PATCO reportedly sent teams out across the country last week to drum up support for the threatened slowdown, the source said, but many members of the organization did not support it.

The talks were simply a means of permitting the organization's leadership to find "a way out" of announcing a potentially abortive work slowdown, he added.

Air controllers are forbidden to strike but on past occasions they have delayed many flights and forced cancellation of others by absenteeism or slowdown tactics.

In March, 1919, about 1,000 veterans of the American Expeditionary Force met in Paris, France, to form the American Legion.

Russia Trying to Appease Red China

By LOUIS NEVIN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — A Soviet informant said today Moscow's top priority at the Peking border talks is to find out whether reconciliation with China is possible to end the split in the Communist world.

He said the chief of the Soviet negotiating team, First Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily Kuznetsov, has settled in for a long series of probing talks with his Chinese counterpart, Chiao Kuan-hua.

This would indicate a considerable broadening of the objectives of the talks, which began Oct. 20.

In Soviet eyes, the source said, reconciliation must mean China's return to the Communist fold led by Moscow. Failure could lead to a widening of the breach between the two Communist giants.

The informant is an official in a position to see important diplomatic papers passing between the Kremlin and High Soviet diplomats around the world. There was no way to determine whether he was stating the actual Soviet position or putting up a propaganda front. But his remarks in an interview coincided with an article in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, which said the Soviet Union is taking the initiative in trying to restore friendly relations between Moscow and Peking.

Kuznetsov returned to Peking at the start of the year for the second phase of the talks on the 4,000-mile border between the two countries.

The source in London said the Kremlin was heartened by Peking's willingness to renew the talks — broken off by Moscow in December — and especially by a Chinese agreement to broaden the discussion to include issues of trade and diplomacy.

At this point, the source said, Kuznetsov sent for his wife to join him for a long stay.

So far, he said, there has been no discussion of ideological differences.

He appeared to believe that the danger of war in the heartland of Asia has receded. "There is no fighting as long as we are talking," he said.

The Kremlin was "fully aware," the source continued, that China agreed to renew the Warsaw ambassadorial talks with the United States only "in order to put pressure on us" in the Peking negotiations.

Kuznetsov abruptly broke off the negotiations 48 hours after an informal meeting in Warsaw of American and Chinese diplomats. That meeting led to resumption of the American-Chinese talks on Jan. 20 after a two-year halt. The two ambassadors are scheduled to meet again in Warsaw Feb. 20.

The informant said Kuznetsov returned to Moscow in December "to study the new situation resulting from resumption of the Sino-American meetings."

Mysteries Deepen About Denny McLain

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger pitching ace Denny McLain remained enshrouded in two mysteries Sunday, mysteries which grow deeper with each day that passes.

There is still no explanation, of what "off the field activities" were discussed when McLain, the first pitcher ever to receive the coveted Cy Young award two years running, was questioned Friday by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

As great a mystery is what has happened to McLain since the Friday meeting. Neither he, nor his wife, nor his lawyer nor business manager can be found — not in Detroit, not in Lakeland, where the Tigers are due to open their spring training camp shortly.

Tiger officials have steadfastly declined to comment on the entire incident.

Ed Demetrak, McLain's former business manager, says the pitcher talked to federal authorities because their investigation "deals with people Denny may have known."

Demetrak said McLain has done nothing illegal.

Says WR Tried to Keep Down No. of Items

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Robert W. Faulkner, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's executive secretary, says the governor did his best to keep down the number of items in his call for a special legislative session to begin March 2.

"We've got a big folder full of bills we've turned down," Faulkner said Sunday. "A lot more people would like to be taken care of, but we've done our very best to hold them down."

Some legislators criticized the length of the 63-item call, which they received Saturday, and the inclusion of controversial non-tax matters, such as the repeal of the "fair trade" liquor law, creation of a merit system for state employees and establishment of a scenic rivers system.

Faulkner said a reason Rockefeller included some items was that he has strong convictions about them and may have no other chance to propose them. The governor's second term expires in January as the legislature goes into regular session.

Several legislators said some items could best be left for a regular session.

"It seems to me that every controversial issue that remains unresolved and which has faced our state over the past 10 to 15 years is in the call," said House Speaker Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana.

McClerkin said the fact that Rockefeller would ask the legislature for $35 million in new taxes was reason not to divert its attention with "periphery controversial" items. The tax proposals were Rockefeller's primary reason for summoning the session.

The governor will seek an increase in the personal income tax, extension of the 3 per cent sales tax to services and removal of the 3 per cent use tax exemption given utilities and quasipublic corporations.

Sen. Morrell Cathright of Pine Bluff, president pro tempore of the Senate, was not critical of the length of the call, since it contains many budget matters that would need attention if the legislature raises new revenue. But he said items "the legislature has been wrangling over" for years should be taken up in regular session.

"Some of these items don't seem to be emergencies whatsoever," said Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock, House majority leader.

"It's almost unbelievable that he'd include all these things in a special session," said Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton.

"This certainly is not my conception of a special session."

"I think it's a little bit politically motivated," said Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock.

tion year, would be "damned if we vote for and damned if we vote against."

Predictions of legislators of the length of the session ranged from about 10 days to three weeks. McClerkin said the legislature could complete its work in 10 days to two weeks if it hustled.

Cathright predicted three weeks, but he said it could be less since it would be meaningless to pursue the budget items if the tax bills failed. Legislators who have expressed an opinion on it don't think the revenue proposals have much of a chance.

Rep. Ray Smith of Hot Springs said he did not think the call was overly long. "We can handle five or 10 bills a day almost as easy as two," he said.

"The governor felt that he made decisions based on the needs of the state and the urgencies of the matters," Faulkner said.

"Some of them, like the merit system, you can debate, but this is something the governor feels very strongly about. He's the governor now and he doesn't know if he will be governor next January."

"This is a big consideration. He feels that if he's going to stand up for the things he believes in, he might as well propose them and fight for them now while he has a chance."

Every item included in the call was encouraged by at least some legislators, Faulkner said. Backers of the scenic river legislation also strongly urged its inclusion in the call because they didn't feel it received a full hearing in the 1969 regular session, when it was killed before reaching the Senate floor, and because they felt the climate was right in view of the current emphasis on pollution control, Faulkner said.

He said a reason for including "fair trade" repeal was that it would be revenue-producing legislation. The administration plans to combine repeal of the law with an increase in the tax on liquor. Faulkner said Rockefeller had decided on how much to raise the tax, but that he could not disclose the figure now.

"The 'fair trade' law sets the minimum markup on liquor at the wholesale and retail level. Some of the other legislation corrects errors and oversight in bills enacted previously," Faulkner said. He said some pointed up that "just because you don't have annual sessions does not mean that you don't need them, as complicated as government is."

Rockefeller can add to his call up until the legislature convenes. Faulkner said if Rockefeller did add items to the call they would be few. He said "two or three" were still under consideration.

The Legislative Council begins hearings on Rockefeller's call items this week.
